

COURT NEWS

One New Case Was Filed and Lumber Case Heard During the Past Week.

Only one new case was filed in the Common Pleas Court during the past week.

Sonner & McDaniel, a partnership doing business at Lynchburg, composed of M. E. Sonner and H. O. McDaniel, brought suit against U. S. Shank on a promissory note for $493.96 with interest from Feb. 5, 1912.

The jury in the case of H. D. Kelly against Samuel Evans returned a verdict for $1370.26 for the plaintiff on Friday. Mr. Evans admitted that he owed Mr. Kelly $1200. Mr. Kelly claimed $1412. The difference between the parties arose over the scaling of the lumber.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Ben Kauffman and Miss Edna Joseph, of Cincinnati, was announced last week. Mr. Kauffman was born and reared in Hillsboro and has many friends here who will be delighted to hear of his approaching marriage. He is engaged in the manufacture of metal novelties in Cincinnati and has made a success of the business. Miss Joseph is a very pleasant, charming young lady.

Charged With Bootlegging.

Jim Johnson was arrested Tuesday evening by Marshal McCormick, charged with selling intoxicating liquor to Starling Trimble on April 20. The affidavit was filed by Marshal McCormick. The trial was set for hearing this, Wednesday evening, before Mayor Wilkins. Johnson and Trimble are both colored. Johnson has been in trouble several times before, having served a term in the penitentiary for larceny.

Baptist Church.

A series of four sermons on "Home Life" will be delivered at the Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. T. H. Johnson for the month of May.

1. Home or The Family Fireside.
2. Mother or The Rocker Before the Fire (Mother's Day.)
3. Mother or The Arm Chair by the Fireside.
4. Marriage or "For Better or For Worse".

The above sermons will be delivered at the morning hour each Sunday for the month of May.

Regular evening services at 7:30 instead of 7.

T. H. JOHNSON, Pastor.

New Market Baptist Church.

Regular services next Sunday morning, with preaching by the pastor. Subject, "The Unfolding of Life," as indicated by the development of the corn. The pastor will say in part that there is a law, in the spiritual realm like that in the natural world.

No evening service. The church will celebrate Mother's Day in connection with its anniversary, and Roll Call on Sunday, May 12.

Each member is expected to report in person or by letter. Bring baskets well filled and spend the day at the church. Members of all denominations and persons of no denomination are invited.

Masonic Inspection.

Highland Commandery No. 31, Knight Templars, was inspected last Thursday afternoon by Judge Jacob H. Bromwell, of Cincinnati, Grand Warden of the Grand Commandery of Ohio. Sir Knight Bromwell was accompanied by 45 Knights from the different commanderies of Cincinnati. They came on a special car on the C. & C. Traction line and arrived here at 3 o'clock. After the inspection an elaborate banquet was served for which covers for 110 Knights were laid. It was one of the most enjoyable affairs in the history of the local Masonic order. The visiting Knights returned to Cincinnati on a special car at 9 o'clock.

A few days ago the Xenia Gazette said: "Hon. Seth W. Brown is announced to-day as a candidate for Congressman from the Sixth District. Mr. Brown has served in that capacity before and knows what it means. Tomorrow we will publish a strong statement from him." The statement mentioned in the Xenia paper is published in this issue of the News-Herald.

The 93rd anniversary of the institution of Odd Fellowship in America was observed with appropriate services by LaFayette Lodge No. 25 on last Sunday. The members of the order attended the Presbyterian church in a body and was entertained with an able sermon by Dr. W. H. Shields.

COL. BRYAN IS COMING

Will Speak Here Tuesday Morning, May 7, From 7:45 to 8:30 o'clock

IS AFTER GOV. HARMON

And Will Tell the People Why He Thinks "Uncle Jud" Should Not Be Nominated For President.

Col. W. J. Bryan, who was expected to be here Tuesday of last week, is now scheduled to speak here next Tuesday morning, May 7, from 7:45 to 8:30 o'clock.

He speaks at Chillicothe on Monday night and will leave there on an early train Tuesday morning. His first stop will be at Leesburg where he will speak from 6:45 to 7:15. From Leesburg he comes here, where he will speak for three quarters of an hour as stated above. From here he will go down the Traction line speaking at Fayetteville at 9 o'clock; Boston at 9:40 and Milford at 10:15.

Those interested in having Col. Bryan come here had hoped to have the meeting later in the day but this at this time seems impossible and the people of Hillsboro are fortunate to get to hear him at all.

Col. Bryan on this trip is talking politics exclusively. He is urging the Democrats to elect delegates to the National Convention to support Gov. Wilson or some other progressive Democrat. He tells why he considers Gov. Harmon unfit to be nominated for president.

Col. Bryan is one of the greatest, if not the greatest, orator of the present day. While many people do not agree with him in his ideas and views, all are now ready to concede his honesty and sincerity. He has always had a great following in Highland county and even at the early hour at which he is to speak is certain to have a good crowd out to hear him.

Many people now believe that he will be the next Democratic candidate for president and this will give an added interest to what he will have to say.

Business Change.

Hugh J. Ervin on Monday purchased of James F. Burnett his livery barn and livery stock and equipment. Mr. Ervin took charge at once. Mr. Ervin sold his livery business to Mr. Burnett a few years ago and with Henry Ervin opened the automobile garage and repair shop on S. High street. At that time Mr. Ervin had been engaged in the livery business for over twenty years and was generally conceded to be one of the best livery men in the state. On Tuesday he had workmen busy making improvements at the barn and will conduct the stable in the same manner he did before retiring. He still retains his interest in the automobile business of Ervin & Ervin, which will now be managed by Henry Ervin. Mr. Burnett has not definitely decided what he will do.

Oiling Streets.

If the streets of Hillsboro are oiled this summer the people will have to pay the entire expense. At a special meeting of council Monday night the matter was thoroughly discussed and the members decided that it would be impossible for the town to help in this work. Lack of funds is the reason. Last year the town paid for cleaning the streets and applying the oil, but as under the new tax law the town only receives about one half as much money as last year this can not be done this year. All of the members were in favor of oiling the streets and regretted that the finances of the town were in such condition that it could not help. Harley Holt has taken up the matter and will call on our citizens and see if enough will agree to pay for the work to warrant a contract being made for the purchase of oil.

Death of Thomas Grady.

Thomas Grady, aged 85 years, died at his home here Saturday. The funeral services were held Tuesday morning at St. Mary's Catholic Church, conducted by Rev. Fr. McLeigh. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery. Death resulted from the infirmities of old age. He is survived by two daughters, Misses Susan and Mary, who made their home with him.

Misses Josephine Roush, Hester Balentine and Ersyl Walker spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clark Cadwalader, near Fairview.

Stabler--Troth.

Joseph E. Stabler, of this place, and Miss Stella Troth, of Lynchburg, were quietly married at the home of the bride's father, Isma Troth, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. Dresch officiating. Only the members of the families of the contracting parties were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Stabler left that evening for a short bridal trip. They are expected home tomorrow.

The bride is one of Lynchburg's most attractive young ladies, very popular in church and social circles.

Mr. Stabler is the proprietor of Stabler's 5c & 10c Store and is an enterprising, energetic, hustling young business man. On behalf of the many friends of the happy young couple, the News-Herald extends congratulations.

Bootlegger Fined.

Tommy Gossett was arrested Saturday afternoon by Marshal McCormick on the charge of keeping a place where intoxicating liquors were sold. He was taken before Mayor Wilkin and pleaded guilty. The Mayor fined him $100 and costs. He paid $50 of the fine and the costs and was given a short time in which to pay the balance of the fine.

Gossett is a horse trader and is said to be one of the smoothest of the bootleggers that have infested the town since it went dry. This was the first time for him to be caught.

Double Funeral.

Miss Maud Tyrene, age 26 years, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. George Atchison, Saturday morning at 7 o'clock, after a few months illness with tuberculosis of the bowels. She had been teaching at the Hansborough Settlement and had been compelled to give up her work March 1.

Mrs. Atchison, aged 32 years, died suddenly at 3 o'clock that afternoon from paralysis of the brain. Mrs. Atchison had been assisting in arranging for the funeral of her sister, when she was taken suddenly ill. A physician was summoned but she died a few minutes after he arrived.

Their funerals were held at the A. M. E. Church Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Newsome. The body of Miss Tyrene was taken to Manchester Monday for burial. Mrs. Atchison was buried in the Hillsboro cemetery.

Mrs. Atchison is survived by her husband and one son. This is the fourth death that has occurred in the Atchison family within the year, two children dying last spring.

New Business Concern.

I have opened a Spectacle and Watch Shop in the room one door south of Dr. Hoyt's office on South High street. Eyes examined free. All kinds of watch, clock and jewelry repairing.

FRANK STEVENSON.

Cantata.

A cantata, "The Brownies Whispers," will be given by the pupils of the lower grades of the public schools at the Washington School building, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Admission, adults 20 cents, children, 15 cents.

Marriage Licenses.

Philip E. McKinney, of Blanchester and Ethel Funk, of Mowrystown.

Joseph E. Stabler, of Hillsboro, and Stella Troth, of Lynchburg.

Floyd L. Roush, of Danville, and Ethel N. Carpenter, of Lynchburg.

Treat For The Children.

Mr. Haag, owner of The Mighty Haag Railroad Shows, which exhibit at Hillsboro on May 8, has decided this year all children attending the afternoon performance of The Mighty Haag Railroad Shows will be treated "FREE" to a ride on the ponies after the performance. Careful attendants attending the ponies.

Walter Reimley, of Georgetown, editor of the Georgetown Gazette, was a visitor in Hillsboro Thursday. Mr. Reimley is a very pleasant gentleman and a newspaper man of ability.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bond, of Nelsonville, and Halford Conwell, of Xenia, were the guest of James and Hugh Conwell over Sunday. Mr. Bond and Mr. Conwell returned home Monday but Mrs. Bond remained for a couple of weeks visit.

Miss Lillian Cohn went to Cincinnati Monday, where she attended the wedding of Eugene Liebman and Miss Edith Fantele on Tuesday evening. The bride has visited Miss Cohn several times and has many friends among the young people of Hillsboro.

The regular meeting of the D. A. R. was held at the residence of Mrs. Harry Spargur Wednesday afternoon. An entertaining program was rendered, after which delicious refreshments were served.

Wendling Lectures.

The series of six lectures to be given here the week of May 13, by Hon. George R. Wendling offers an opportunity to the people of Hillsboro that they can not afford to neglect.

The lectures are on Modern Doubt and follow in logical order. The whole field of modern skepticism is covered and Mr. Wendling delivers a message that every thinking person should hear.

One of the lectures, "The Man of Galilee," Mr. Wendling delivered at the Hillsboro Chautauqua in 1910. Everyone, who heard that lecture, will always remember the marvelous ability of Mr. Wendling, his wonderful word painting, his remarkable delineation of the Carpenter of Nazareth, the sublimity and beauty of his thoughts and his rare eloquence.

Nothing to equal this lecture has ever been delivered in Hillsboro. The late Rev. T. H. Pitchard, of Charlotte, N. C., wrote: "I would rather be the author of that lecture than of any human production I ever heard fall from the lips of any living man."

With the price of the Course Tickets only $1.00 and with it for such a worthy cause as the benefit of the Public Library, everyone who has a dollar to spend, save for the bare necessities of life, could not spend it better than in the purchase of a ticket for these lectures.

Massachusetts Primary.

The latest returns from Massachusetts indicate that President Taft has carried the state over Col. Roosevelt by about 3,000. About 150,000 votes were cast. Champ Clark carries the state over Gov. Wilson by about 20,000 in the Democrat primaries. The fight has been very bitter among the Republicans both Col. Roosevelt and President Taft spending several days campaigning in the state. Both dealt in personalities and called each other everything that could be printed.

WHY WOMEN SHOULD VOTE

Subject of Interesting Talk By Miss Collins, of Cincinnati, Tuesday.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE CLUB

For Advancement of Movement Is Formed and Officers are Chosen--Many Women Are Interested.

Hillsboro now has a Woman's Suffrage Club. The organization was effected at a meeting held at the Washington School building Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Ralph Mitchell, of Cleveland, who is here on a visit to her parents, Col. and Mrs. L. B. Boyd, was largely instrumental in bringing about the organization of the club. She is an enthusiastic suffragette and is active in the work in Cleveland. She got a number of the prominent women of the town interested in the movement and arranged to have Miss Emily Collins, of Cincinnati come here to deliver an address Tuesday afternoon. Prior to the address of Miss Collins the local organization was formed.

Upon motion Mrs. Mitchell was chosen chairman of the meeting and Miss Margaret Patton Secretary.

Mrs. Mitchell then outlined the manner in which Woman's Suffrage Clubs were conducted in the cities.

She stated that the only way to get results was to do things in a practical manner, use the political plans of the men and organize: have an executive committee and precinct committee-men. She spoke of the necessity of active work being done at this time because the Constitutional Convention had decided to submit a proposal to amend the constitution giving the women the right to vote.

She announced that the following executive committee had been appointed:

Mrs. Joseph Richards, Mrs. J. E. McDermott, Mrs. L. B. Boyd, Mrs. Flint Rockhold, Mrs. George W. Barrere, Jr., and Mrs. J. W. Watts. It is hoped to get other women who are interested in the movement to serve on this committee.

The precinct committeemen are N. E. Hillsboro, Mrs. John Matthews; N. W., Mrs. Ben P. Kunkle; S. E. Mrs. J. Ed Shannon; S. W., Miss Sarah Lambert.

Press committee—Miss Margaret Patton and Miss Ruth Dawson.

Miss Mailetha Roads was elected secretary of the Club and Mrs. Frank Leslie, treasurer.

Mrs. Joseph Richards is chairman of the Literature committee.

The members of the precinct committee are the ones who do the proselyting for the movement. They appoint sub committeemen for their precincts, find out how all the people in their precinct stand on the question, talk to wavering people, attempt to enthrone those in favor of the movement and convert those opposed to it; distribute literature, arrange subdistrict meetings, etc., in fact do the work of the regular precinct committeemen of the men are supposed to do.

Following the organization of the club Mrs. Mitchell introduced Miss Collins, who spoke entertainingly for almost two hours on "Why Women Should Vote." She is a cultured, well educated woman, who undoubtedly believes that it is only just and right that women should vote and that a better form of government will be secured when women have the suffrage.

Miss Collins said that she had no quarrel with a person who after a study of the question was opposed to it but she requested that the movement be not condemned simply because it was new; that it was not fair to condemn any movement until you were posted on it. She then told of the spread of woman's suffrage, stating that the women had full suffrage in New Zealand, Australia, Norway and six states of the United States; that they had partial suffrage in Finland, Denmark, Sweden, and England and in many of the states of this country; that every year some ground was being gained and that full suffrage for women was certain to come to the women of the civilized world sooner or later, that it was only a question of time.

She said that every time any ground was gained in this country it was an influence towards securing the right in other places as men in public life would not be willing to antagonize

WORTHINGTON WILL CASE

Supreme Court Reverses Decision and Charitable Institutions Lose.

The Supreme Court decided the case of William Worthington, as admr. of Joseph Worthington et al vs Charles Redkey, as executor of Martin Redkey, et al on Tuesday. The decision of the Circuit Court was reversed.

This action was a contest between the heirs of Joseph Worthington and certain charitable institutions over $2,200. Joseph Worthington, during his life time, executed a declaration of trust in which he gave $1,000 to the East Monroe Methodist church; $1,000 each to the Home Missionary Society, Foreign Missionary Society, Woman's Home Missionary Society and Woman's Foreign Society of the Methodist church; $200 to the Wednesday Club of Leesburg and $1000 to Methodist Home for Aged at Cincinnati.

Martin Redkey was named as trustee of the trust and the money paid over to him.

Mr. Worthington reserved the right to revoke the trust.

In the trial of the case in the Common Pleas Court Judge Newby held that the instrument did not create a valid trust on account of the power of revocation and gave judgment for the Worthington heirs.

The Circuit Court reversed Judge Newby holding the trust valid and giving judgment for the charitable institutions.

The Supreme Court reverses the Circuit Court, holding the instrument invalid and giving judgment for the Worthington heirs. The judgment being practically the same as Judge Newby's.

the women who had the right to vote by opposing the movement. In other states and would espouse the cause even if they did not believe in it. She said that every candidate for president had gone on record as favoring Woman's Suffrage and quoted statements of Col. Roosevelt and President Taft.

Miss Collins stated that women were affected by all forms of legislation and therefore should have the privilege of assisting in shaping it; that women paid taxes; that women must obey the laws; that women suffer from bad government and they should therefore have a voice in the making of laws. She told of instances that had come to her notice where by the influence of women, men had been induced to secure reforms and reform legislation and said that in Colorado, where the women had full suffrage there were more laws for the benefit of humanity, especially working people, and children than in any other state in the Union; that a commission sent from England to examine the laws of this country had reported that in Colorado the laws in behalf of humanity were better than in any other state in the Union.

She did not claim that women were smarter than men but said they had a different type of mind and that the minds of men and women working together would produce better results than either alone; that women understood the needs of women and children better than men and would know what laws should be passed for their benefit; that women were needed as officials on account of this better understanding in institutions where women and girls were cared for.

Every place where women have been given full suffrage, she said, it had been proved a good thing and asserted that it was not unwomanly for the women to vote and take an active part in public affairs. In support of this last statement she cited Miss Jane Addams, who has done a wonderful work among fallen women and against the White Slave Traffic in the large cities. She claimed that a woman who took part in and understood public affairs would be a better mother; that she could explain to her children conditions that would keep them out of evils that they might otherwise fall into; that they could discuss questions with their husbands in the home and both have a better understanding of them than heretofore.

She closed with an appeal to the women present to study the question and if they believed in it to have the courage to work for it energetically and called attention to the importance of the movement in Ohio at this time on account of the action of the Constitutional Convention.

Miss Collins had a pleasant voice and is a fluent and easy speaker and impressed everyone that she fully and completely believed in the justness of the cause. She is a cousin of Mrs. William H. Taft.
